

Dr. Elisabetta INDELICATO

Medical University of Innsbruck, Austria

Elisabetta Indelicato, MD, PhD is a neurologist and clinical scientist at the Medical University of Innsbruck, Austria. Her work focuses on clinical endpoints and translational research in rare movement disorders, particularly ataxias and dystonias. Her contributions to Friedreich ataxia research have been recognized with the FARA Fellow Prize. She is currently coordinator of the Ataxia & HSP Disease Group within the European Reference Network for Rare Neurological Disorders (ERN-RND).